

GOT 5 MINUTES?

LET'S TALK ABOUT DEMOCRACY!

WE ASKED THE PEOPLE OF SANTIAGO

WHAT ARE THE FIRST WORDS THAT COME TO YOUR MIND
WHEN YOU THINK ABOUT DEMOCRACY?

rights

order

addressing social issues

equality

power

expression

ability to choose

freedom

DO YOU FEEL FREE WHEN IT COMES TO CHOOSING
YOUR LIFE'S PATH?

yes, I can choose my future, and it doesn't depend on economic status

yes, now there's more democracy

yes, the future feels liberating

no, it's a reality of our country

no, there are certain standards
holding me back

yes, there's more democracy
and freedom of expression (unlike before)

yes, I have a right to expression and participation

DO YOU FEEL LIKE YOU HAVE ANY POWER AS A CITIZEN?

Not many, all political decisions are focused on the major powers; one can go and vote, but our interests are not reflected at the end of the day.

No, more or less. Rights are often violated, especially the right to express opinions.

There's weariness in fighting from people; they're upset and tired. I don't think that way; I believe one has to fight for political and economic values, for what surrounds us as a society.

Our power isn't extensive; we can only choose who's already inside and nothing more.

Corruption persists; we live in a world where the media tells us what they want.

Yes, my vote counts; the majority rules; but when more people agree, it's easier.

WHAT WOULD YOU NEED TO BE MORE POWERFUL?

People take advantage of circumstances when they have power; there need to be equal rights for all.

The debate is too politicized, so there isn't room for opinion.

Education, better education.

I don't know, the change has to come from the top.

Reduce nepotism, make policies for everyone, and stop manipulating the word "vulnerable." ... We're all vulnerable in some way.

Better representation in the people who represent us.

An honest political class.

WHAT ARE THE
FIRST 3 WORDS THAT COME TO YOUR MIND
WHEN YOU THINK ABOUT ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE?

disappearance of human thought

progress

youth

technological dictatorship

replacement

extinction of mankind

creativity

artificial intelligence is a current issue, not just an issue of the future

People don't know how to use them, and those who don't know will be left out.

Yes, but it has to be used well. Misused, it won't bring improvements.

DO YOU THINK AI WILL HAVE AN IMPACT ON DEMOCRACY?

It's just a machine; in contrast, a human can help.

Technology itself helps with analysis; it's important to include it everywhere.

Yes, in the future, because at some point, all governmental solutions or plans will be in the hands of artificial intelligence as it considers more parameters than humans.

Humans can't approach each other or solve problems anymore.
